Venn Promotes Four

WASHINGTON, DC – The Management Team of Venn Strategies, a nationally recognized public affairs and government, announced that four members of the firm have been promoted to key positions. The firm promoted:

- Ben Steinberg to Executive Vice President and Co-Chair of the Critical Infrastructure Practice. Steinberg joined the firm in 2018 as part of the firm’s newly formed critical infrastructure practice. Over his tenure at Venn, he has played a leading role in the growth of the practice and brings his expertise in energy policy to serve clients across the critical infrastructure arena. Before joining the firm, Steinberg spent nearly a decade as a key official at the Department of Energy.
- Doug MacGillivray to Vice President within the firm’s critical infrastructure practice. MacGillivray formerly served as Director of Government Affairs at the American Public Gas Association.
- Emma Bishop to Assistant Vice President, where she is a member of the firm’s critical infrastructure practice. Bishop previously worked on renewable energy policy issues at Enviva.
- Macrae Sharp to Associate. Sharp joined the firm after serving in the congressional office of then-Senator Kamala Harris (D-CA).

“Each of these promotions reflects the exceptional caliber of work that these team members bring to the table. They all play an integral role in the success of the firm and have been key parts of our growth. Their new positions reflect their sizable contributions here at Venn and potential to further develop,” said Venn Strategies founder and Chief Executive Officer Stephanie Silverman. “I have no doubt that they’ll continue to deliver high-impact results to our clients, and will foster the firm’s continued growth moving forward.”
