Venn Promotes Six

WASHINGTON, DC – Venn Strategies, a nationally recognized public affairs and government relations firm twice named among the fastest-growing private companies in the United States (the “Inc. 5000”), announced it has promoted six staff members to key positions. The firm promoted:

- Emma Bishop to Vice President. Bishop joined the firm in 2019 as part of the firm’s critical infrastructure team. Bishop previously worked on renewable energy policy issues at Enviva.
- Kristen Constantine to Vice President. Constantine joined the firm in 2022 as part of Venn’s health team. Before joining Venn, she worked as a research analyst for the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services.
- John Richter to Vice President. Richter joined Venn from his position as an Advocacy and Engagement Specialist with the American Nurses Association in 2022 and in policy roles with Senator Bob Casey (D-PA). Richter will continue to leverage his knowledge and experience in health policy for the firm’s health clients.
- Justin Livesey to Assistant Vice President. Before joining Venn, Livesey served in multiple roles in the office of Senator Ron Johnson (R-WI), including as a legislative aide on tax and economic policy.
- Ruth Richards to Senior Executive Assistant. Prior to joining Venn, Ruth volunteered with the Joe Kennedy for Massachusetts and Hillary for America campaigns and worked in VIP Services at the Wynn Hotel in Las Vegas.
- Joshua Greene to Associate. Before joining Venn, he worked for the North Carolina Democratic Party, as well as the Office of Senator Thom Tillis (R-NC).

Venn Strategies founder and CEO Stephanie Silverman said, “These promotions reflect the exceptional work product these team members deliver every day to our clients and internally at the firm. They will all continue to play a vital role in the growth and success of the firm. Their new positions illustrate their valuable contributions here at Venn and their potential to develop further. Going forward, I am confident that they will continue to deliver the high-impact results our clients have come to expect from us.”
